From the CMD's Desk

Dear Colleagues,

As this issue of AAINA is released, I am happy to place on record that the company achieved highest income of Rs. 60.45 crores and highest ever gross profit of Rs. 37.14 crores registering a remarkable increase over the previous year. Despite being challenging year, we have successfully managed in consolidating our position and maintaining a growth path it set for itself against stringent DPE parameters.

The company thus became eligible for excellent rating against DPE's MOU targets, which it has sustained since 2007-08 once again. The world economy has shown signs of recovery after the global meltdown of 2008. The improvement in employment data of USA and gradual recovery of Euro-zone are also indicative of recovery. However, volatile political situation in certain parts of the world threatens the recovering economy. The Indian economy, after growing at an average of around 8.5 percent for most of the last decade, slipped below 5 percent in the recent past. High and persistent inflation remained a key macroeconomic challenge throughout in Financial Year-2013-14. Consequently, some of the ongoing infrastructure projects got stalled, leading to slump in construction.

Nevertheless installation of stable government at the centre has instilled confidence amongst investors - both domestic and foreign. The country's economy is showing positive signs and is expected to pick up.

In such a scenario, country's healthcare sector that grew rapidly over the decade or so, is poised for a robust growth. Company must be agile to the emerging business scenario and devise new ways to handle the projects and ensure timely delivery of high-quality professional consultancy services with a view to continuing to remain on the high growth trajectory. This would require the company to increasingly deploy IT for improving efficiencies in all its operations so as to differentiate itself in the market-place through deliverance of client-focused innovative services; this should enable the company aim at building a stronger and sustainable future for itself. I am aware of the difficulties faced in implementation/execution of projects and also the trying times witnessed by most of in overcoming these. However, I am happy that through your knowledge, experience and dint of hard work you are able to address the problems.

The company is committed to provide world class consultancy across its spectrum of services, creating cost effective health infrastructure for public at large. Timely start and completion of the projects has been the major mantra of HSCC. Presently HSCC is doing more than fifty hospital projects and the Company is committed to complete all these including few mega hospitals like Safdarjung Hospital, New Delhi, NCI, Jhajjar, undertake this year within schedule.

I would like to express my deep appreciation to one and all for the dedication, contribution and support and am confident enough that would be forthcoming in future as well. I may mention that the company has an outstanding strategic advantage-highly experienced professionals great established brand. HSCC, enduring values, committed workforce and a remarkable future ahead, we can look forward to taking on the new challenges as these emerge and scaling new height of achievement.

With season's greetings and best wishes to you & your families.
